

Yesterday everyone in room one went to Carterton to a show. It was called the songs' of the sea. We went in pairs. My pair was Alethea. When we got there we stood in line. Then we went inside. After we went inside we sat in our seats. The place went dark. At First I thought there was a power cut. But it wasn't. The show was starting. When it started there were three people. I forgot their names. Then the three people went behind the drums and moved the drums. After that they showed us what was inside the drums. Inside the drums were starfish. The starfish were gold. My favourite part was when the place was dark.

Finally it was Tuesday, the day of the songs of the sea. Some of room two gathered in room one. We were so happy! I wondered why room two was in room one. Next after morning tea Mrs Allan put us into partners. My partner was Layla. Then we went on the bus. When we arrived at Carterton I was so excited! When we went in the showroom there was np room for Layla, Mrs Allan and me. Mrs Allan and the other lady sorted it out for us. Suddenly... it got darker and darker until it was all dark. I thought it would suddenly go dark. I heard three girls talking. One of them sounded like a male. We saw them jump into the row of drums and rolled on the drums each well... Only two of them rolled on each. I saw their fingers rolling the drums. Next (I think it was Izzy) found some golden starfish. One of the other girls told her to pat the starfish and she said "hay, three worms tried to suck my finger!" I giggled. (I don't know what happened next, I just guessing). The moon came out and looked at its reflection. The moon said, "Oh how beautiful I am." Then the wind blew and blew and messed up the reflection so... the moon cried and ... a moon fish appeared as the sun rose. The sun saw the moonfish crying.

Room 1 and some of room two came into room one. We had morning tea and then got our vests on. We got on the bus. We went inside. The place went black. I liked the Jellyfish. They looked cool.

I went to the Songs of the sea. We saw jellyfish. We saw a moonfish with sparkles all over it. Lily

After morning tea we jumped on the bus. We went to the songs of the sea. We sat on the seats waiting. The drums were moving. The colours were very bright. I looked up and the lights were shinning. The best part was the rainbow. The rainbow had a lot of bright beautiful colours.

Yesterday there was a show. Some of the room two people came in to room one. We got into pairs. I was with Alex. We got to the songs of the sea. Then the drums started to move. The light turned off and the people were smiling. Then the people tipped the drum down. There were starfish. They were sparkly. Layla.

The Songs of the sea

By Capital E

Room one and a bit of room two travelled on the bus to the songs of the sea. After we were seated the lights went off, what was happening. Then it went dark. I felt scared. I shook. Then the drums moved. I noticed that one of the drums was glowing. Then it changed into a seashell. Then it told a story about the moon and the sun. It started when moon was looking at his reflection. He said how beautiful he was but then the wind blew his reflection away. He cried. His shadow became moonfish. Then he made a sunfish. I liked the jelly fish.
